

CHAPTER – IX

ADVANTAGES & DISADVANTAGES

9.1 – Advantages

1. Understanding Customer Preferences

- The Customer Preferences part of this project looks at what kinds of food people like to eat what they like to order and what types of restaurants they like to go.

2. Improved Business Decision-Making

- This project gives restaurant owners and food delivery platforms information that is based on facts and number.

3. Customer Segmentation

- This part of the project looks at how different groups of people order food like people of ages people who live in different cities and people who work for different types of companies.

4. Revenue Optimization

- The Revenue Optimization part of this project figures out what kinds of food make the money.

5. Enhanced Customer Satisfaction

- This project studies how happy customers are with their food and service.

6. Delivery Performance Analysis

- This part of the project looks at how it takes to deliver food and how well the delivery process is working.

7. Market Trend Identification

- The Market Trend Identification part of this project looks at what kinds of food becoming popular and how people are changing what they like to eat.

8. Location-Based Insights

Food Ordering Behavior and Consumer Trends: A Structured Analysis of Choices and Habits using Tableau

- It helps businesses figure out where they should focus their efforts so they can make money.

9. Effective Resource Management

- The Effective Resource Management part of this project helps restaurants use their resources wisely like food and staff.

10. Interactive Data Visualization

- The project uses Tableau dashboards to make complicated information easy to understand.

ALPHA
— INNOVATORS —
—

